I am Brady Henderson. I am a general partner and operations manager at Arch Capital. It is my responsibility to maintain and organize the back office. I am currently responsible for all accounting, budgeting, client onboarding, and maintaining relationships with fund administrators, legal counsel and all other service providers. By managing the back office, I am able to let Brett and Ryan focus their time and energy solely on capital allocation.

I attended Gonzaga University and received my undergraduate degree in Business Administration with a focus in Finance and Economics. During my undergraduate years, I had the pleasure of playing on the Gonzaga Men's Soccer team. My experiences during undergrad taught me team development skills and the importance of community.

Currently, I am getting my MBA at Gonzaga through night classes. By May 2021 I will have my Master's in Business Administration with a focus in Finance from Gonzaga University.
